question...Why is the name of Jesus always under attack when the name understand how Yeshua can be spelled and pronounced so many differen different accents and I guess eventually things got changed.

But the name of God is NOT Jehovah. That is an English interpretation o pronounced Yaweh. The name is Sacred and Holy and Any Jew will tell a say that name lightly. He is Also called the Great I Am and many other th

Here is my big Problem. This is not to offend but this is told to me by a what we think. He is not the same God. This is why. Muhammed chose to presented himself as a genie. He was very powerful and was a biblical S chose to follow him. Not God. All these other faiths do not believe in the created from stone by their own hands. Some are demons that they have but they call them gods. Americans and others do not have any concept traditional meanings. We are using our own termonlogy.

For instance, did you know that a muslim in the east considers ANYONE arab is an infidel and cannot convert to the islamic faith? But here in am It is considered an abomination in those countries.

Other than that, I don't believe Jesus is a swear word. I think it is stran thorns in the name of the one who wore thorns as a crown.

The letter in His name "J" a letter that you can convert between hebrew by the letter "Y" .
Translating has advanced greatly in the last 2000 years and we can unde we didn't know before. If you don't know words or meanings of verses, go the explaination of every verse on every page.

ALSO, I am not thrilled with the explaination of Jesus taking up His cros and act responsibly and be willing to die to our own desires, to take up o and follow him.

He also said to carry His yoke for His yoke is easy and His burden light heaviness of the world.

He also said to learn from Him. It seems to me, that no matter the burde unto death He stayed faithful to God. I very good lesson. He overcame de aim to do the same.
