In England pure and green!
The most beautiful place,
You had ever have seen!
On misty night,
With a rainbow of sight,
A bird took flight.
From that place he flew that night,
A child watched in pure delight!
And thought what might,
Have been insight!
For in that's child's heart that night!
There came a thought,
Of here and now,
Tell a story how!
He saw that bird take flight,
That misty night!
