it warms me to read anybody's belief in the truth of life, for me i have a that to have faith you have to have feeling from the heart and thats that, that has to question all but to have faith in my eyes is as simple as belief any supierer being then you have faith. i have a amazing wife with whom love from her heart for myself and our daughter but does not have faith in your mind to believe you can generate faith through act of thought. without so to put a loving spin on all that is true i have faith, my life is full of love believe.
