Have you noticed that people, places and things are a bit different these days? How diverse groups of beliefs and creeds are beginning to take a different understanding of our lives, the world and our beliefs? It is upon us like a Simple truths are coming to light more and more each day and with them more people who are beginning to realize the truth of the matter. I am not tearing into Christianity, or tear into the differences between religious positions or scriptures. What I AM here for is to help, yes, the SOS has been heard. But I want to make sure that you realize that this is not about me, it is not about "My money or having sex, or being of greed or war or hate. This is about us, about earth and how we are dawning upon a time in which we will be enabled to reach for the unthinkable; heaven, nirvana, paradise. Albeit as it stands the human genetic change" and when something as finite and infinite as divine eternity is compared, imagine how this daunting thought can scare people more so than comfort. What we have been searching for all these years, it is what we have killed. Lives lost are deeply unknown and make up a number so large it need not be long count. But enough about why, or when, let us begin in the answering

While you probably know, a feat this large is by no means easy to lay out, especially so if it has the total intent to bring every living soul along with it. I ask for your patience, your imagination, and your willingness to give this information. I have been issued such information and more thankful to share it, so if you are interested in the truth of the matter I should just ask that you share this with people.

First off, I often wonder how many of you intuitively sensitive people out there acknowledge that time itself is speeding up. Many might discount this as getting older, but not so, indeed time is beginning to speed up and it appears to be. The reason for this elope in time can be placed upon several theories; the theory of eternal life indeed time will speed to a point of non-existence, or, perhaps it may have something to do with the approach of the Mayan Calendar's end. We can theorize that our speeding up of the world via technologies is bringing your answer or theory here the fact remains that time indeed is speeding

Perhaps the main reason that we cannot understand why things are speeding up is the same reason that we cannot free ourselves from the nearly sadomasochistic nature brought upon ourselves. That reason has eluded humankind for thousands of years now. Somewhere along the timeline, whether it was ill intended, outright evil, or for the sake of the competitiveness in the human spirit, our notion of time and space were clouded. If you notice, for those of us who go by the Gregorian, or Julian, we lose/gain 1-2 hours a year and we lose/gain an entire day every 4 years.

were set at the true, lucid and divinely correct time would we lose/gain h on? Logically, most people would answer no, we should not lose/gain any calendars would be dead on. And those who answer "no" to this are corre

But why? Why is it that our calendars and clocks had to be mistimed? All relevance suggests that in order to keep human kind from reaching for th place, that the people would never get there so long as the clocks and ca from true synchronization as possible. It is said that indeed we are of a much as the atomic make up of a cell and atoms are similar in general m solar system; being that positive and negative energy fields are present principles that help both space and the planets, and atomic make up rev you notice, many times you will find that in our natural surroundings we of energies which appear synchronized. Let's just say that when we obse movement in our solar system, or the revolutions in an atoms make up, w more synchronized than we are.

And so hence we have some natural and logical answers as to why our ca so very flawed. Do you know of other reasons as to why we have such a f Do you have some good thoughts on how to debate this thought and cast answers as to what calendar and clock or timeline might be the correct o

For thousands of years humankind has been searching for divine eternal always seem to fail and usually in large part due to our strong faiths and mindset/soulset which suggests that my religion, or spirituality, or book "WRONG".

How do we get pass this faulty logic that keeps us pinned to the ground eternally clipped? Easy, so easy is the answer to this that many may fee we never before looked at things in the way that this answer of such eas reverse engineer our way of thinking. In order for us to begin the accent open our minds and our souls to new dawning direction and thought. At t significant change in position that indeed it will demand a 180 degree tu we simply have to ask ourselves, "What are the similarities in our religio texts?" You see, if we reverse engineer our way of thinking of the past 1 defeat our stand by which enables our wars, and hatred and negativity, w attain a level of consciousness much more in alignment with "togethernes our misalignment of "separateness" and hence divinely much closer to th "Oneness".

I am sure that many of you can find tons of similarities between our spiri but perhaps none of these similarities ring more true than a single sente within every single sacred stance that has been found. That universal tru the, "Golden Rule". Do unto others as you wish done unto you. And if all rule what do you suppose would happen? Can you imagine what might hap share your imaginations with me.

I shall leave you with a thought and some proof of the widely known Gold many of the worlds most popular beliefs. The last thought is this: The Ho so very long, what do you suppose the Holy Grail really is? Imagine, and this is all that I ask for in return.

Much Peace, Love and Light,

A Gentle Warrior
