Let's see if I can help here.

Creating a more heavenly planet on Earth

It is my belief that through the spread of democracy, worldwide, that the goal of being a "Heaven on Earth". This goal has been attempted by several empires and has failed: Romans, Greeks, Egyptians. Unfortunately due to lack of enlightenment, specifically the value placed upon life on earth, it will take offensive me to spread democracy and make for a more peaceful planet.

Hopefully that paragraph clears up what some think I have a conflict over but supporting the spread of democracy and the war machine.

One of the key ingredients to the creation of a more heavenly planet is to have a country, nation or group of people with several different spiritual beliefs living in peace.

The vision seen beyond the days in which the world comes together are a lot of things and make clear the situation we must break it down to basics. The idea is simple but once met, our goals as humankind will be new and limitless.

We must start by producing an entirely peaceful planet. This has never been done in a civilized manner. Once total world peace is assumed top scholars, doctors, and other professionals will all come together, pool their talent and resources to solve problems for cancer, aids, leukemia and other diseases, we will reach as deep into space discovering things never seen before by the human eye and we will come to the final frontier; space. Imagine China and England working on a Jupiter moon colony sustaining eco system that allows for a one day work week for everyone. We have the ability to do this folks. We, together, can make this happen.

The creation of a utopian planet may scare a lot of people however I do believe as a human kind were meant to do. Why not make life easier on all of us? Imagine a one day work week six day weekend. Days full of dance and celebration and water sports.

So, with time, and patience we must as a worldly people, begin to respect different beliefs, seek out the true history behind many of our religious books and traditions, and maintain a connection at all times. The key here is to have belief tolerance, or know that someone chooses a different belief system than you and that you both can live peacefully.
