Ok to begin with I am sorry if it appeared I was coming across harsh, I did. Even though I remember when I wrote that I did find some of the common religions. Knowing Brenda and having chatted on yahoo and msn as well, that, so I don't think I offended her.

It is more her church tells her not to do anything other than follow what. Yet anyway all the points I put as questions, to soften it instead of saying points are wrong and extremely rude to some people, of other beliefs. Instead I asked to question the points.

Yes, I have also heard that there was God called Allah, who was the mood of the Quran though, Mohammed makes it quite clear that Allah is the same. At the time she made comment, am I wrong for answering with things, which are my own comments??
