Summary: So what is it, do you have it, with almost 75% of older people the symptoms and if you have it here?

So what is Dogma-Techna-phobia?

It is the fear or near un-approachable people, who if you ask them to lo on a PC, they near freeze up in fear?

This is psychological problem, mainly found in our older generations; bei use of technology as children; now suffering and even finding it hard to made of!

So how do we fix this? We experiment, the more mistakes you have, the This isn't just about people who have never touched a computer; yet also time on a PC in the office, ask them to do anything new for fun, they scr expect to switch it on and that is it??.

Now this isn't anything new; people are always scared of something they new, and since so much publicity has gone behind the world wide web, it at least gives that impression to many, who have never used it.

People now believe it to be something huge and un-explainable; the poin place, was for people trying to explain things, to others in an easy way.

Even the most complicated web-professional, started some where and did with?

So let the fear go and stop think PC are something that belongs in labora is just to play games on, as many do still.

It is a means to achieve a task, in the shortest time possible through the

Just like the music added on here, they were written in a day or less, no and to arrange a piece like any written here, would take days; not a few

Or even this article full of spelling mistakes, as we always make?

So in a seconds; we can click auto-spell and it fixes it for us, if we chec words; in a full English dictionary?

How long would that process take otherwise?

An hour or two, yet in a second, it is fixed?

Same applies with so many things; like the online painting, any artist m canvas and would have to start again, yet now on a PC undo and that's it before the mistake happened?

So in this, we ask any of you who has friends who are dogma-techna-pho them.
Help teach them to get off the donkey and try new things, as really, when use, it is far easier then riding a donkey, so get off it, get online and we being the whole world spoken to in a day.

Try phone them all and do this?

Well stop with dogma-techna-phobia, and experiment, the worst that can and press undo, on most things?
