Summary: In the same as the difference between the sheep and the goats changing your language on this one word; can then change your future ar across to others.

Many people never notice this and only use the word 'but', well if we not and so perhaps we should look at what it does to the way we converse.
I use to use it and then realized this; so then looked at the context at wh It contradicts all of the last statement you just made, like this:

Quote:

you're a really nice person and I like you allot for taking the trouble to r understood?

I blatantly just stopped all that last sentence about you being nice, so h for you, within my own wording.
Hopefully that begins to let you see how much it stops things, now by ch either 'also' or 'yet' as you now see me use allot, then have a look at tha

You see that continues and allows you too also.
you see if you do that on conscious level of the way you communicate, t other people expect of you.
When you are constantly saying 'but' in fact you are not saying anything, much done in life, down to that one word; as you were going to but, but,

It has to stop and to make the change is a conscious decision, we can al always, to look for the option out side of the box as you speak?.
As if even in mid sentence and then you stop on the word 'yet', you allow speaking with, to finish the sentence and to continue also.

Now when this is taken in to account, we can also have a look at the diff John, Paul, Simon peter) whom all use 'but' to much and Yeshua.

Yeshua used 'yet' very much in his wording and 'also', 'and this' etc, allo listening to also look more beyond and not stop mid flow.
In Paul's case it is so winding with 'buts' at every twist and turn, it is ve heading. As it will stop mid flow in what he is saying, to contradict that statement again. So making it more like a snake to read, in my opinion.

So spend the time think about it and you will see do you really want to b you want to move on and have more to what you are saying?
It is the smallest change in vocabulary for basically what is a free gift o options to your life.

You see on the other hand of the 'butts', it is like the goat and so goats contain them. so this is why the butting into things and this is the same use 'but', they are trapping them self smaller and smaller in a box of con
So have a good think about it and then you might see do you really want lets stop doing this, but?.
