Summary: A full guide to the meaning of life, with both the scientific and

With many searching for the meaning of life and what we are here for, pe possible, even after millions of years; as they say. As for all of this to e chances are immeasurable, as what would happen is atoms would maybe chaotic and we wouldn't be able to define it mathematically, as it would chaotic, now that occurs on the smallest level of existence.

The next part is having explained the fabric of the universe has a system This also then applies to life its self; this may seem obvious, yet we are You see since the universe was created, what were we made for? Well if need this and self contain the water we need. Even in the whole idea of evolved from a sea creature. Which is the reason why, yet if this was the evolved to have self contained water. Well here is the bit that makes it a don't just eat and drink to take the energy out of it; our bodies convert t plants. Plants need nitrates and phosphates to grow; our waste we put ou phosphates; manure is compost.

I once saw a documentary how the jungle functions, and how energy is re leaves fall from the trees. These leaves are then eaten by creatures, the then semi turned into soil. Then a smaller creature eats this and this aga process continues until the original leaf has become soil. The energy of soil. Then at the very end of the process, it showed how there is a micro tree uses this energy and grows new leaves; so the whole process makes scientist to say this evolved is preposterous, as this whole process work accounted for so no energy is lost and each level of the process gets wh supposed to be part of this circle of life as well.

Another documentary I saw, on how the jungle is not such a chaotic mess happens is there are bogs; which contain high mineral content, large ani meeting place and for mineral rich food. As they walk from one bog to th trees. As they walk between bogs; this is gotten rid of as waste, with the the waste. Now the waste contains nitrates and phosphates, which act as the seed. These then grow along these path ways; through the jungle bet jungle has roads connecting these bogs together with fruit trees growing Can you understand what this means? If we lived the same as originally s the Bible, that we eat the seed bearing plants; the whole of the world co As we climb the fruit trees to collect fruit, we break the old branches; so soil and continue this circle of life.

There are many parts to this whole circle as well, we breathe out carbon to grow, plants breathe out oxygen which we need it to breathe; a perfec Now this system is extremely resistant to change, yet it is also is very fi discovering as the worlds climate changes. One major reason for this and trees hold a lot of water. As we chop down the trees for wood; the sea ri the trees is released. We also chop down large forest areas for grazing l does not contain the same amount of water, as a tree would.
If you look at any animal that is designed to eat meat; it has large canin bodies find it hard to absorb meat. Especially the proteins contained in m proteins, yet we need to eat more of them. At the moment due to the fact fruit trees as we could; the cost of living on fruit is high. Yet if we all d we fit into the circle of life and just ate fruit the whole earth, could be a everywhere. There would be no starvation and problems with the climate all take part in this and by simply eating the fruit and distributing new s enough. Also trees produce ozone and so the climate would readjust its s would be fixed.
Now what is the meaning of life then, now I have established a purpose f system of nature! We can begin to look at the religious side of things, as existence on a whole. We are here to learn about Oneness, as I have just without? How can we begin to understand the essence of God, without be in making a new life between us? Growing nature and understanding the l of this, of the feelings involved in the success of something you have ma teaching it wisdom as God has done with us.

There is no devil as such; apposed to God as God made all and sees all. is creator of everything how would a force apposed to God make it self. I made like God; with the ability to create.
The devil is within man, a better way to describe this is EGO. As oppose as the two are opposite. This is also the difference between heaven and heaven is Oneness, learning to live as one with all. Ego is learning to m and to be only concerned with what matters to ones self. The best saying good of many out weighs the good of one". The whole essence of what I Christ says "on earth as it is in heaven" means to live in oneness; as he can have peace and contentment as at the moment the ego we are produc our stubbornness to accept, that we are part of the great circle of life ar actions.

We need nature like a baby needs its mother, when in the womb. The two connection the baby dies. This will be the same with us soon, as without disrupt this connection, the harder we make it for our self's; like when a

Those who take too much can kill the mother in the process of birth, and they didn't live at one with the mother.
Oneness is the same here, as it is in heaven; heaven has different levels unconditional love for all, people who have made it there, have realised that God is the father and center of the family. That no matter where peo are; you should love them as God does. This means Helping and giving to family and children i.e. Oneness (one us). Originally this was far easier

Now I hope you can see from what I am describing this too can be achiev many people don't know that ego produces ego and ego is hell. A large c reiterating the principles of many great teachers, Buddha, Yeshua to nam what heaven is, so you can see the purpose of what they were saying.

This brings me on to the next level of enlightenment in heaven, the place teachers reside. This level is wisdom, yet not wisdom to be above others like a father with its child. The only way to teach a child properly is thro teachers have encompassed unconditional love in all senses, and given u

So here you have the meaning of life, lets not destroy what has been ma our egos bigger. We all can take part in it, everyone can plant trees, and unconditional love to others. Everyone can tend to nature and this world was; before our egos spoiled it.

On earth as it is in Heaven!
