Title: An Analysis of Faith
Subtitle: Spiritual Oneness

Author: wizanda
Date: 2025/3/28
URL: https://www.wizanda.com/modules/article/view.article.php/c2/328

Keywords: Faith, Oneness, Unconditional Love, Wisdom, God, Source, Re

Summary: Having spent the last 20 years conversing with everyone online spirituality, here is our findings on what the real meaning of faith is.

Religious Faith

Originally the word 'faith' meant to 'trust', like we have the words 'trustw virtually the same thing.

The Biblical concept of 'the faith' came from Pauline Christianity, that fa Christ without evidence - which changed the meaning of the word 'faith', system'.

Yet when we look at the word 'faith' within its many connotations, we can independently of a religious belief system; like we can have faith/trust in this because we know they will not fail us.

Many religions get us to ascribe to a belief, which is from the mind, and our heart into that idea.

Having 'blind belief' has become the inherited meaning of the word 'faith takes from its power - that people can have faith in their own abilities, w mentality of ascribing their power into a religious leader.

Since we all desire to put our trust into something that feels certain, ma they believe are religious certitudes; yet often this is like within a cult, question the fundamentals of the belief, so that they're easily led by the

Within practising anything over time, we gain trust in it supplying results a religious belief over time, it becomes something that we feel we can tr

A mountain climber will have faith in their own abilities, and faith in thei using; where if they're climbing with someone, they will have faith in tha they wouldn't be climbing with them.

As we practise something, the trust can grow as we become more adept a

Each time we have a success, we add to our faith that things are achieva doubt, it can diminish our confidence.

A musician is a great example of faith in action, as it's within trusting th key to keeping in time, and to hitting the right notes.

The energy of 'faith' can be understood as 'to trust', 'to love', 'to reflect understood like the Care-Bear's power, where there is a beam of unique from our soul.

When we get stressed we release cortisol, which then tenses up the body fears, as if we had more faith/trust, we could override the fears.

Some of the religious beliefs we've been given, instead promote a sense piousness, rather than empowering people to be full of faithfulness by ac where then we are assured of our eternal outcome, by the very nature of Someone who is full of faith, isn't necessarily a timid person; unlike som religious beliefs, where there are loads of doubts - as within our recogni from within, it makes us believe we will overcome obstacles.

Some of the religious believers who have trust in someone else, can ofte they are often also afraid of other people - as they've not learned to trus foundations; which means the faith they apply is often not as powerful, a to trust within themself first.

Practising submitting our faith into something, won't create more faith w within the thing that the faith is applied into.

Learning to know that something is trustworthy, is better than blindly bel potential.

When we apply our faith into materialistic idols in some way, we limit the reality exists within everything.

Relationship Faith

It gets complex when we start dealing with relationships, where when we believe a person is, our own faith & trust can become entangled within th

When we split up from a relationship, it can leave us heartbroken; yet is combined faith is now separated, leaving us feeling torn?

Within the loss of trust emotionally from being cheated on, it is a proble us are left with the scars to prove it; yet what a strange idea, that our h Maybe it comes from our beliefs; that we thought we had put our trust int that we felt certain of, where on being let down, it makes us afraid our d

The idea we've applied our faith/trust into someone, and then they've sto how can they steal what is only ever ours to give.

To break someone's trust, can make them lose faith.

In a long term relationship it takes patience & work to have the faith/trus eventually fulfil our expectations; whereas falling in love can be instant, someone matches what we're looking for.

Every time we look at someone to make a relationship, we're applying ou what we think they will be, and sometimes regardless of the warning sign
"head over heels in love".

Whilst we have faith in the same things, our journeys can match as we tr
our faith in different things changes, this can often lead to us taking slig relationships then end as we drift apart.

Bonding with someone's heart, often alternates our direction slightly, by Applying faith towards people and being let down, affects the way we bel are likely to take place; some of us can become resilient to love, due to multiple times - until we've learned to replenish our trust again.

Faith is freely given; fears are not.

When we apply our faith into someone, we're hoping that they're going to our same expectations; yet often we learn that there were only elements each other.

This is where having a higher concept to put our faith into, is something fully place all of our trust into the Source of reality, as it isn't going any

Whilst we apply our love/faith/trust into people, like they're going to retu always find disappointment, as there will always be situations that won't energy then diminishes. This is where we can feel unloved, and unwanted energy into others, rather than within the infinite.

We're inspired by feats of faith, like within the Rocky film or in other ep someone is down & broken, yet they've then trusted that they will achiev motivates our own faith, that we then feel that we can also succeed.

Someone's enthusiasm/faith can make us believe that anything is possibl

Faith Energy

When we can apply our faith/trust into a task, it can make us succeed; w is possible, we find the way to make it happen.

You can hear the doubt as a musician warbles or as a singer doesn't hold contrast & colour that shines through when we excel.

People have faith in different things, some in the musicians, some in the the music that comes from the instruments.

When we apply our soul into the musical instrument, we can make it sing soul into a person, sometimes they can do the complete opposite and scr want to be directed in that way.

It is like a dog coming up to you with a ball: to that dog the ball is the m world, yet if we are not in the mood to play, all that faith & energy fails.

Same with applying faith into people and things, it only counts if it is mu merely feeding them energy that they don't want, and thus it can get refl depends on if they're ready to look at that reflection.

We are all a melody, with certain unique colours to share; some colours some waves will cancel each other out.

When people have many reflecting with them, that reflected energy can b when a band is touring, they can play the music even better or maybe wo energy that is shared with them; it all depends on that performer's level achieve.

External scummy energy can obscure & dull our own inner reflection; lea trust/faith/love within, means we can then share that light externally.

When we find an equal faith within something, it allows us to flow, and th become more - otherwise by the very nature of rejection of that energy, i stifled.

Heavenly Faith

Since we seek this intimate connection with something that returns our fa find union with others through material connection; yet the energy requir a higher dimensional energy that nears the Oneness of Heaven.

Yoga means 'to Connect', and through the internal meditative aspects, we states of enlightened consciousness, that fully reflects the Oneness that reconnect to.

When people have a Near Death Experience, and visit Heaven, often they they'd never felt such unconditional love whilst alive; though we can emb relationships, it takes having the faith within, to share this at an infinite

Within Heaven's Oneness, unconditional love is omnidirectional, and is a we become attached within this realm to just one reflection, often we lim interconnected with everything.

Sadly lots of relationships can collapse due to this, as instead of the fai much greater than ourself, we lean too much on each other, and sadly we the energy that is needed to sustain each other.

Ultimately the goal in existence is to become unconditionally loving, and as to emit light from our soul in all directions - so that we become a rad unconditional love, and infinite faith.

Life creates boundaries for infinite faith, by containing us in this mortal frequencies can become containment by the lack of faith surrounding us the energy comes from within the Source of everything, and therefore the belief that everything isn't interconnected.

Surrounding ourself within an unconditionally loving environment, can ch

Faith/trust affects our ability to be empathic, and even telepathic, as it

Since our soul which is infinite, connects through our heart which is finit from our soul, and then trust is because we know in a linear timeline, tha

Love is much trickier, as we connect with each other at a physical reflec our souls can become entwined infinitely, where our love & trust stems fr faith.

To perform real magic it takes having complete faith, to the point it beco reality is made from.

Chi is the energy that flows through the reality, the very substance that and this can be understood like a form of current.

Learning to share faith energy in a positive way is like giving currency,

People respond positively to someone sharing trusting energy with them; opposite, and sharing a lack with people, can make them dislike the exch understanding where the root cause comes from - that we like faithful pe them.

We almost seek out faithful characters, like musicians, sports stars, tale charismatic people, as there is something inspiring about those who's ac