Summary: This is a list of Intelligent people, who have realised that Pau

In the excellent book Christ or Paul?, the Rev. V.A. Holmes-Gore wrote:
"Let the reader contrast the true Christian standard with that of Paul and betrayal of all that the Master taught....For the surest way to betray a gr misrepresent his message....That is what Paul and his followers did, and followed Paul in his error it has failed lamentably to redeem the world... blessed Master Christ, which the disciples John and Peter and James, th tried in vain to defend and preserve intact were as utterly opposed to the is opposed to the darkness."

The great theologian Soren Kierkegaard, writing in The Journals, echoes
Quote:
"In the teachings of Christ, religion is completely present tense: Jesus i to imitate him, become a disciple. But then through Paul came a basic al attention away from imitating Christ and fixes attention on the death of C Martin Luther. in his reformation, failed to realize is that even before Ca become degenerate at the hands of Paul. Paul made Christianity the relig Paul threw the Christianity of Christ away, completely turning it upside d opposite of the original proclamation of Christ"

The brilliant theologian Ernest Renan, in his book Saint Paul, wrote: Quo
"True Christianity, which will last forever, comes from the gospel words of Paul. The writings of Paul have been a danger and a hidden rock. the defects of Christian theology."

Albert Schweitzer, winner of the 1952 Nobel Peace Prize, has been calle Christians of his time." He was a philosopher, physician, musician, clerg theologian. In his The Quest for the Historical Jesus and his Mysticism o
"Paul....did not desire to know Christ....Paul shows us with what complet of Jesus was regarded....What is the significance for our faith and for ou the Gospel of Paul is different from the Gospel of Jesus?....The attitude towards the Gospel of Jesus is that he does not repeat it in the words of to its authority....The fateful thing is that the Greek, the Catholic, and t contain the Gospel of Paul in a form which does not continue the Gospel

William Wrede, in his excellent book Paul, informs us: Quote:
"The oblivious contradictions in the three accounts given by Paul in rega enough to arouse distrust....The moral majesty of Jesus, his purity and p people, his manner as a prophet, the whole concrete ethical-religious co signifies for Paul's Christology nothing whatever....The name 'disciple of to Paul....Jesus or Paul: this alternative characterizes, at least in part, warfare of the present day"

Rudolf Bultman, one of the most respected theologians of this century, w the Historical Jesus for the Theology of Paul: Quote:
"It is most obvious that Paul does not appeal to the words of the Lord in the essentially Pauline conceptions are considered, it is clear that Paul Jesus' teaching is -- to all intents and purposes -- irrelevant for Paul."

Walter Bauer, another eminent theologian, wrote in his Orthodoxy and He Quote:
"If one may be allowed to speak rather pointedly the Apostle Paul was th to the apostolic age."

George Bernard Shaw, winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1925; i Lion, we read: Quote:
"There is not one word of Pauline Christianity in the characteristic uttera really never been a more monstrous imposition perpetrated than the impo the soul of Jesus....It is now easy to understand how the Christianity of the police and the Church, while Paulinism overran the whole western civ that time the Roman Empire, and was adopted by it as its official faith."

Will Durant; in his Caesar and Christ, he wrote: Quote:
"Paul created a theology of which none but the vaguest warrants can be Christ....Through these interpretations Paul could neglect the actual life he had not directly known....Paul replaced conduct with creed as the test change."

Martin Buber, the most respected Jewish philosopher of this century, wro
Quote:
"The Jesus of the Sermon on the Mount is completely opposed to Paul"

In one of the best books on early Christianity, Those Incredible Christian reports: Quote:
"It was not only the teaching and activities of Paul which made him obno leaders: but their awareness that he set his revelations above their auth with the mind of Jesus, greater than that of those who had companied wi been chosen by him....It was an abomination, especially as his ideas wer knew of Jesus, that he should pose as the embodiment of the Messiah 's demon-driven enemy of the Messiah....For the legitimate Church, Paul wa disruptive influence, bent on enlisting a large following among the Genti with a numerical superiority with the support of which he could set at de Jerusalem. Paul had been the enemy from the beginning. and because he hostility he had craftily insinuated himself into the fold to destroy it fro
