Hi,

Actually that is what I was looking into when I found your site. I was act might be a bit premature on this because I just started my site a couple pretty small. I plan to have a lot of different stuff on my site but it will be a political page, but I may ditch it after the Election. I am just annoyed because Christians think Bush is Jesus. I do not see the resemblance. Don't like

I am Christian/Gnostic/Towist/Hare Krishna/Buddhist. I say this because the teachings of the Christian Church want to admit, and that God speaks to me. Some people hear better than others. Jesus, Buddha, and Krishna to me. Reading their work is like reading different books by the same writer. The Gnostic Gospels, the Gita, The Tow, and the sayings of Buddha are all inspired by God... not that there are not others, but I have not yet had time to study them, such as the Works of C.S. Lewis, and the Works of Emanuel Sweedenbourn. I am inspired but perhaps to a different degree.

My background is Assemblies of God. I started back in the early 70's and was a Freak. I felt really disenfranchised with the church after the liberal, hippie, legalistic right wing political nonsense took over again. I tried other churches or worse. I finally looked for Christian Fellowship on the web and found LightMind which is a discussion of eastern religion on LightMind. After all the arguments in the Forum, I found the spirit of Christian love and peace on this eastern site finally. They were able to explain it to me, after years of trying to understand it, really getting it.

I honestly don't know a lot yet. I have met some people on different forums who are enlightened, but most of them are just nuts like me. I at least know I am a more than I did. I want to be a wise teacher some day, but right now, I have no knowledge. It is funny that just when you think you have all the answers you realize that you only put one more piece in that 100,000,000 piece jigsaw puzzle really well... I thought, but then I found a deeper level of it, and started doing concordance, looking up every word in Greek and Hebrew. I started reading the Bible and then the Gita so now I have a lot to study.

I really appreciate some of the training I got in my old Church, and the fact that they and taught me to pray, and have a rich spiritual life. A lot of their teachings are universal, though they would be upset to hear that. I think most spiritual practices are universal. I have a good spiritual life, though of course there are ups and downs. Some things that are at least semi-divinely inspired.

Here is a link to my little site. As you can see I am also a graphic artist
