More explaining. Common ground. World Unity.

I come here to be understood and to share how you can maximize the experience by setting no limitations on yourself, that is the omnipotency that I speak of. I speak of things intending for someone to spend all of their time trying to prove me wrong. I know what is already right. I just want someone, if only just one person, to understand. It counts. Get motivation and enthusiasm from what I tell them and perhaps they will be better. I'm not selling religion. I'm not selling books. I'm sharing a state of mind through seeking what it was that I wished to discover and possess, which requires much research and be well informed on this subject of Eastern religions and what their Monks are capable of. Nazi Germany and their total body/mind control is gone, anymore, after witnessing with my own experiences and others as well, that it can be done. It will be done in time by only using the mind. Many of you reading this probably don't and believe in a God that is correct. A religion that preaches that only Christianity leads to heaven because you must accept the Lord Jesus Christ as your saviour. I know that brings about world division and war. It is simply and obviously illogical to believe that when there are hundreds, if not thousands of other religions in the world. Again, for world peace to be achieved we must recognize WHAT our God is. I know our God, and I have given you the answers. There is no room for the ignorant to argue about in fighting over the "who" of Gods and prophets. If it's logic and reason that is here, don't be afraid to be my friend because I am different. :) How can I, who speaks truth, peace and honesty, ever betray you? I find it harder and harder to waste time. Negativity is a waste of time. This life is ONE, there is no duality, no inefficiency. Life is not found in death. It is found here and now. We all have heaven here on Earth, yet we have been misinformed that this is only for those who accept then you will never reach the potential and state of mind that leads to a peaceful world. You can create heaven in your mind at this very moment. I know what was given to us, for us to seize, not to push away into the idea of fairy tales.

Make change happen. Start with yourself. Understand and accept the world as it is. No matter how badly you want it to be true, claiming Jesus as your saviour every day will not bring about peace. Our actions towards one another will lead to heaven, by following what it was that Jesus preached, not worshipping him. I know here and now. The prophets gave us the answer. They were not here to be understood so that we could be what it was that they preached.
