One of the main things about Christianity that i just cant swallow is that there can be the ultimate good, and totally detached from negative or "evil" forces. I believe what i beleive God really is...I do beleive God is everything but the notion of a force leaves alot of questions to be answered, why is there "evil" in the first place about lucifer being cast out of heaven convinces me..bible storys are just "God is everything" so the reverse must be true also "everything is God" for humans...Spirituaity is personal and individual, i'm still unsure exactly what my journey to discovery is all part of the point, i personally think herding into a belief system is kind of destructive in the sense that it destroys individual difference and richness of spirit, daring and the persuit of personal discovery. Selfish, but i beleive where mistakes are made lessons are learned, and if you are doing the things that are part of the journey that takes you to your true self, then the individual is no more and just a identical clone of the next man. Without fear of divine retribution...i would like to live in blissful harmony with my world, but the world we live in is far from the latter senairio, perhaps in some reality does a world that this exist, i beleive the mind to have the power to create worlds, realitys, universes etc, for "everything is God" and a single thought can create, and its up to the individual to decide which...true happiness may be to possess it, because i am far from happy, i consider myself spiritual but do not see the vineer between everyday life and true life with connectivity to the divine. Souls from becoming the true one universal self that everyone is part of. This is contradictory, and i wouldn't deny it, paradox is an inate part of the fabric of reality, it would render other things void, what is before life?..i can remember things of things before life, so a paradox is created in this, these things have no meaning, i think of it in "time" terms

i have respect for Christians or Buddhists or even a Pagan type people who are non-self righteous in thier outlook, "whatever floats your boat" as they say. It's just a different way of looking at it...one last thing, if you ever won't reach infinity everything must be a good@utkworld.com
