To many changes to count.....
Yet here is the latest so you know what is happening as you browse This sites whole theme.html is now theme.js, one single line in class/the ever extension.....

Reason for JavaScript is found out it can also be used for templating by n also your browsers, so making instant changes then has to go through JS a processing time, this post will help see.....if that is correct as first test submission, as search works much better as does page loading.....shall s

.....feed back would help as changes happen, then i will tell everyone m from as I do.
