Sorry, I beg to differ with you.

There is a reason Yeshua spoke this parable and it was to show that those who were firstborn (Jesus, the firstborn of the dead) and His disciples would not inherit what they thought they would but He (the firstborn of the dead) and Gave the inheritance to His followers.

There is another parable about the different groups of people sent to work in the vineyard. The Lord told them that at the end of the day, all those who were sent to work in the vineyard would receive the same wages. The Lord promised each of them regardless of when they began their work. Also, it is a spiritual inheritance regardless of the point in our lives that we receive it.

Love ya!
