Title: Conversations
Subtitle: How Christianity Is Muddled With Self Realization
Second Subtitle: How Christianity Is Muddled With Self Realization

Author: wizanda
Date: 1688979984
URL: https://www.wizanda.com/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?topic_id=28

Within Self Realization, they believe that Source is the same as the Self

Our Self consists of an "I", where we feel we exist, as we have got a his Each "I" has its own ID processed by the Source, and all "I" exist within Source is beyond any sense of "I" or Self - As to contain all them selves Source doesn't have a beginning or an end, it just always was; whereas a that have some form of timeline.

In the Bible the Lord of Creation (YHVH) is speaking, which is the same interacting; where the Creator has a personal ID, and therefore has an "I

The Source of reality in the Bible is El Elyon (God Most High), and it int the Creator; where the Creator is like the Arm doing things within the rea reality.

When the made up Gospel of John applies that Christ was using "I Am" st then confuses many theologians as they think a finite man, is claiming to Throughout human history this has been a problem, as mankind has this t and to make anthropomorphised ideas about God to glorify themselves; w creates everything, and is beyond being contained within a simple being.

Because in Self Realization there is a tendency to believe they are the " apply that God is "I Am", and they are that same being. The reality is Go (Nirvana/0neness), and when we let go of all attachment to everything, w

Within Christ's wording in the Synoptic Gospels, he was using "I Am" sta High, as being the only 'Self Existing' one; yet when we've attach to God of Self, we miss the point that God is selfless.

Thus basically, since Christianity, and Self Realization both try to anthr statements, into being some Divine Statement, it creates the opposite; a statement of Ego, and when Source has used "I Am" statements, it isn't s yet that everything exists because of it.