In Revelation 11:10, it says 'people will give each other gifts as they have taught', which is that Christ came from the Essenes, where they didn't drink alcohol. Christ pointed out about John the Baptist (Matthew 11:18-19).

After Christ's death the early Ebionite church didn't drink alcohol & eat meat. The Pharisees infiltrated the movement to teach the same as the Pharisees believed, and for the whole world it's acceptable.

As we come to this Roman celebration of Saturnalia, that for many is the end of the teachings of looking after the needy, and instead is a time of debauchery. Soon Judgement Day will happen as Armageddon kicks off in the Middle East. According to prophecy Betelgeuse will be seen to have gone supernova, and the world will be reset - without such hypocrisies.

If you're one of the people who has realized drinking alcohol & eating meat is not something you agree with, then well done for being in alignment with many religions practised globally (Dharma), and according to prophecy as the Judgement Day approaches, there is a potential you might be here afterwards.
