To go opposite to Saul, is to assess the inner workings of Yeshua's own Gospels, and all other writings we can confirm matches the character of standard.

Using the Gospel of Thomas as a foundation isn't being scholarly, as we Parable of the Wicked Husbandmen, and see Thomas includes the nice bit the prophesied condemnations.

Many Avatars globally have taught here is the Maya - a world between He desires, yet in doing so becoming delusional.

Another way to view this realm that we are within, is here is like purgato reincarnate repeatedly (Samsara); until we become righteous enough for

The Christian & Muslim perspectives have been messed up by later man r they've led people to believe that they're sentenced to eternal Hell, whe according to first hand experiences.

It is more common, that once someone learns to repent (apologize & char ascend, and come back again.

Selling people that they are God incarnate isn't accurate, as we're basic matter is dark dense condensed consciousness, and the light from above

The easiest Parable I have for reality, is imagine we're inside a universa everything can be proven mathematical.

God is like a Universal Central Processor (CPU), where the reality is ma and we are all computer game characters - made just the same like the A

When Yeshua said "the Kingdom of God is within" (Luke 17:20-21), when dimensional quantum physics, we're all inside God's imagination, inside thus the Oneness of Heaven that manifest reality is within all.

This world we're within is far from perfect, and is in a continual state of recycled; this is where Yeshua tried to correct the Pharisees, and told th (Matthew 23:15), and they thought he was saying that their father was th

When Yeshua in the Lord's Prayer is saying, "let it be on earth, as it is in heaven," he should be trying to serve others (Altruism), and not be selfish demons like the demons (this as the same core teachings as Krishna, Buddha, Lao Tzu, etc).

It isn't exegeting the eschatology in Matthew 24, Mark 13, Luke 21, Revelation with the contexts - if it doesn't match the narratives of our own religious traditions.

God foreknew that mankind will eventually destroy the planet again - thus he warns that it will remove those destroying the planet at Judgement Day (Revelation 19:1-2).

What is prophesied in all 3 Synoptic Gospels is 'as all nations gather around Jerusalem at the same time the sun & moon will be darkened, and the stars will fall from the sky, and a great storm, as Betelgeuse goes supernova (Isaiah 13:10, Ezekiel 32:7, Zechariah 13:1-2).

The Parable of the 'Fig before Summer' (Matthew 24:29-35, Mark 13:24-32, Luke 21:29-33) is about the closure of the Bed of Adultery (Isaiah 28:9-19+20-21) and the Second Coming (Revelation 2:22).

Many get confused (Preterists) that when Yeshua said at the end of this Synoptic Gospel's, "that this generation shall not pass away, until all these things have taken place," he was specifically talking about the return at the Midnight Hour, prior to Armageddon (Matthew 25:1-13).

The Elites have underground bases prior to these End Times event, and he shows their faces in the films, 'Don't Look Up', and 'Greenland'; where they think they are hidden underground (Revelation 6:12-17).

The Book of Revelation is Parable upon Parable, and when we exegete all the metaphors, it shows what it is talking about; yet we have to be patient, and work hard to decipher it - not do away with any books that don't fit our supposition.

We should be working towards making the world a better Johannine place, and the Pauline Simon Peter almost to make a pro Jewish cult about Christ - where you believe in anything in the religion, you just believe in the Death of Christ.

The universe is ultimately going to collapse due to the quantum physics of the Big Bang. God has used this current reality as a way to test who is worth keeping, and who is not. World to Come.

When you're quoting the ideas in Isaiah 11:6 of the wolf lying with the lamb, you should understand that the same contexts is within Isaiah 65:25, which is after the destruction of Jerusalem (Isaiah 65:17).

In the Kalki Purana the final Avatar (Kalki) comes on a white horse from the East (to bring Peace), with the Sword of Justice (Nandaka), to vanquish the demons with the demons prior to Satya Yuga.

Odin (Waldanaz) comes on a white horse prior to Ragnarök, and in the Book of Kings comes on a white horse, from the New Jerusalem (Place/City of God).

The Gospel of John was made up by the Sanhedrin to put off the 2nd temple
