Suzy, one tree will not be enough. Yet, if we can overcome our addiction to oil... we can grow enough trees... and mix enough free energy into an emission free world. There is more than enough out there... there doesn't need to be a dominant energy source.... rather it would work better mixing the clean sources to achieve what it is we need... happiness and less worry. Not to mention let the stars clearly sometimes! you know? Like the Great Ghandi once said "We wish to see in the world".

Peace and Love... it's all within us.

Check out some of Tesla's work.
