I will state again... nothing is needed but the mind and body. Sometimes overcomplicate answers to questions. My energy, the light within me, and does not need a crystal. Do not abuse "free will"... You will quickly find prophet. There is no need to back yourself up with religious ideology. Th way in this age. Is telling someone that they have free will simply preser Why does one need to be told that one has free will? Doesn't that contra will? Is free will actually a walking contradiction? I have free will and I this, no one has to tell me. But for me to tell others a lie... that a crysta same as telling them that wearing a shark tooth around their neck will gi want to argue this point... if this is what this site is going to turn into.. continue my works in the true light of Indigo... which is apart from mater insecurity. No one needs to wear anything or carry anything to make ther of words...
