One Extreme causes another.....Media is just letting us know, what was a few years ago we would have pistols at dawn.....

Now we have Over The Duel

Which instead of go to war to prove our self in combat....we can in that same time....

I can't help feeling with all the extreme violence on TV it can only cause

As if you see someone charged for something you might think you would see people realize they can't do them things and learn to adept....

Like Lao Tzu said if you sentenced all with death for any crime who would the same applies doesn't it....

If we make the punishment REAL! and then use the media to show it correctly we want to break the law.....yet also from Lao Tzu is, if the government has no power people will steal and rob....

So which bit needs banning, maybe watching politicians lie and cheat us
