Duality as in what sense?.....as to me spirituality is part of the cause of dual....

It easy to say lets have one, yet for that to be; first we will have to look what is required not to be dual....

As in there are two sorts of peoples...still trying to work out a clear defini if we find a system that caters for all...then finally we can have oneness

Yet currently THEY have pushed us further into either religious, Spiritua approach more dual then anything else...

As in religious won't converse with spiritual as (Christians) they will cla nothings need converting....so making the gap wider....

Reminds me of the Christian poster they use on street ministries where t between God and us....and then they lie and say Christ died for them....r books they quote from are by Pharisees that the bible stands against and ending....

now all of those peoples follow the lie and say that we must also and tha and God...lol

That is what made the divided between us and God to begin....

So yeh must admit it is very dual at the moment and unless we end Chris what Christ intended the gap can only worsen....

Big problem is they are very much like scared Goats...as if you approach you....then they run off frightened and amplify them self's with other who they can reconfirm it to them self's....

Anyways point being...people have chosen to be like that and so duality

if we push one way to far people will go the other...so what would you su
