My Dear Wizanda,

How precious you are! There is not one soul that I do not weep in my heart for and lovely to God. But what is wonderful is that He loves the unlovely and the people that call themselves Christians and even other "tolerant" religions that you have been hurt by Christians. It is for us to love on every person. I do because that is his name. Mary called Him Jesus.

We are called to love people into the kingdom. The bible says that the Jews were jealous through the Christians to believe. Who would want to be jealous of the haughty people who only care that they are right. My uncle used to be like that. His passion to know God and share the truth of what you know is awesome. But condemning to the lost is certainly no way to win anyone to the cross!

I feel like the Lord has impressed upon me to pray for you. I think it is because of the other faiths purely because the Holy spirit is present to show truth along with a word of warning? Please be careful that with all this information, that you are not clouded! I envy your knowledge. I will be reading these other beliefs to see if they are true.

The Power of the Holy Spirit in my life has been my hope. I have seen the Lord and His Bronzed feet beside me while I was on the floor in prayer. I was given a heavy arm around me. I was given a word that my migraines would be healed. It took a couple years, I am healed and haven't had a headache for such a long time.

The scripture you have referred to is rather confusing to explain but I'll try to explain it to you. Those who go to church and profess Christianity and do really good works. But they do not only fear Him and are afraid of hell. They worship God with their lips and are far from Him. They are workers of iniquity and their works will be brought to judgement. That is why Jesus says to depart from him because they are not of Him.

Because we cannot be righteous on our own, Jesus became the lamb. Because we can do (unless any man should boast) to enter into the kingdom, Jesus took our sin upon Himself because we could never have enough faith on our own. He became the scapegoat.

By the way, I must argue the point and I will post this question, Do you believe in the power of the Holy Spirit? back on Jesus because of the sin of the world being on Him? I say No with another post !!!

I love talking to you!
