Wow, are you deceived or what? You know if we understood absolutely everything about God until we died. But I can assure you of this, we didn't evolve from any monkey's stick!

If we did evolve then God made a mistake somewhere. God can make or destroy anything He makes you think He couldn't make you?

Your body has been figured out by science, we know how it works. Yet, we still can't keep it well, or recreate one. Oh, yeah, cloning. Maybe it's still up to God to provide a soul for the cloned ones.

The chicken or the egg? Well, duh, the chicken. The Bible says that God made them to reproduce after their own kind. End of question.

I pray that God will put Himself and His wonderful creation ever before you.

And if evolution were true then look at this. God knew that we didn't have wisdom teeth that our teeth would fall out. So He made wisdom teeth so that we could chew.

If we used to be monkeys and had tails, then at what point did our DNA become no longer important and how did the parent DNA tell the child-to-be not to have a shorter one because we don't need them so we are going to start weeding them out? We could signal our DNA like that, then we could all be born in perfect health. These dogs whose tails we cut should be DNA signaling their babies not to have a tail. The master is going to cut it anyway!
