Please don't post any more unless you back it up with scripture based facts. I have not heard something so made up, since reading the books of John and Paul as this is what is widely believed. Now the Pharisees John and Paul and your beast that sits on many waters, as they have caused people to worship God. They are the back bone of today's political system, which is Pharisees to make people break every commandment that God wrote with his own hands mans interpretation of what God said to them. Yeshua is and was true, they established the Roman Catholic Church and changed what he said. Yet again they thought they could do a good job as they knew the scriptures, they destroyed what Yeshua came to set free and cause many to go to Sheol. As for the world, though it may not appear on the outside. Yet inside in the scriptures scripturally educated, as people are told they are sinners and put under the devil means accuser of the people, I think they have stated every way possible. Neither was a prophet, both prophesied, and both changed Yeshua's words. I believe it should be.

When in genesis does it say Satan or devil? It doesn't it says serpent, if you think of things on some super natural force. They would realise that bad comes from mans choice to eat the apple and as they had just fallen they blamed it on the serpent. It does not say Lucifer was the devil, either, if u read all of it in Isaiah

Isa 14:13 for you have said in your heart, I will go up to the heavens, I will sit on the stars of God; I will also sit on the mount of the congregation, in the side of the north

Phi 3:14 I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God

The same as Paul said he was aiming for. It is Paul who established the church before it was a church, was the head of the Roman Empire, with the same power as Babylon. Then to keep control of the people they used religion to continue their power. You are speaking to the angel in revelations chapter 10, so please don't ignore the facts. I have seen both heaven and hell and know God and Yeshua personally. If you check many of the scripture you quoted, and replace Satan with the accuser, you will see it make sense. Except for in the books of John and Paul, the accusers, though they couldn't see it them selves as their own egos blinded them. The reason there is bad in the world is due to man thinking, he can do so much better than God intended it.

We hurt our selves, as we walk away from the light by our own egos, as they grow and are going and cause problems in our lives.

I have met with in this life time some very disturbed people, who perform evil, they are just hurt and have let their ego's over whelm them.

Where you have quoted James 4:4 you will see it is discussing the ego and

I ask and pray that you read this properly, and not go looking for anti-Christ. You stated Matt 23 and John together, matt 23 is that they think by proclaiming they can get in, yet it is God (Oneness) that people must know. John says that from the world is in direct contradiction, to much of what Yeshua said. So that, when he said to be a light unto the world? He didn't, most of John is hearsay, of what people thought he said. I will soon add it all to this site knowing most of the scriptures and the help of the Holy Spirit that it is not. Also Paul saying that an angel of light was the devil is the daftest thing. Yeshua appeared as an angel of light to him. All the way through the Bible to people on numerous occasions, sent by God. So it was not the devil, yet to tell Paul to stop what he was doing, yet he still continued as he thought. So ignored them and believed them to be the devil, as it stood against what from Sheol, it is dark and there is no light in it, heaven has authority to bring light.

The world is shortly coming into the tribulation, and who has caused the many of the natural disaster? Man and our egos with our big cars and factories, revelations, those destroying the earth will be removed.

Also you quoted Jeremiah, yet incorrectly, so I will ask that you read Jeremiah and quote others words and change the context.

So it is time to wake up and question our action as a people and sort it out, we will be the cause, of our own destruction. Not some super natural being against God; I find that personally insulting. As this is a great underestimation of the power of God is. Where can anything hide, from something that made the sun the light of the universe and is so bright, even if something were to hide it, it is shine and the corner is illuminated and that in the dark is blinded. Again I say wake up, he who has an ear, let him hear.

Peace and love B with U

P.S.

No offense meant in anyway, I am just trying to show you the errors of your post. I deleted the post if I wished, yet better to show you the truth. So if you have any questions, please ask.

God bless you and help you to see the truth
