No I mean when I died you become part of the universe again.
The universe exists as quarks or these strands that I saw, these strands
So therefore the whole universe is spirit, the lower dimensions of these,
The higher levels are love and wisdom and have transcended material ex strands were in this matrix (grid) of existence, the more control they had Up to level 10 is what we live in, and can be affected by change. The las these strands had become light energy and are infinite. The strands I sa balls of energy (angels), the single strand of spirit had become reflectio glowing ball of wool.
I then after speaking to God, asked to come back to my body, rather ther what I had seen and to tell people that heaven was Oneness.
Basically what I am saying is we have heaven and hell around us, yet on we can't yet see.
Heaven (Oneness) is high frequency strands and is light; the low frequen known as hell (Sheol, the depths).
It's like in the matrix film where everything is this dynamic coding, yet t computer is God and Oneness. The energy that people make is channelle the central core of the computer; making it that all functions correctly.
The idea of the whole thing is that people learn Oneness and to control t through the level. Each time a spirit is put into a live it is in the hopes t and overcome the things it hasn't learned yet.
So that in the end all may live as one, the only obstacle is Ego and from is getting larger with many not realising, they are destroying the univers only within this life we see. Yet also on a sub atomic level it is spreadin Almost like when a computer has a virus, this is ever since the fall and v i.e. Adam and Eve.
We have a chance as a people to fix the problems we made, else it is pos
(God) will simply turn it off and reformat the whole thing.
To fix the problem and upgrade to a better operating system, that doesn' if this does happen many will not remain, only those who have already ac become part of Oneness (computer core).
