Hi Wizanda, Dude here: yep I know about the rainbow tribes. I have been to 2 national rainbows. Two nationls and 5 regionals. It is a mixed hodgepodge of many tribes. When they had the national gathering at West Virginia, I went there for two weeks and they showed up. Ther were 5 Jesus kitchens, plus about 20 other kitchens feeding people. Its really good at these gatherings. Its fun, and healing, to live in the woods and go back in time 200 yrs when ya see the huge steel pots cooking food for the people everywhere. They even have naked camp, and a place for gays to camp, p

For the most part these are spirtual people, of various types. They prefer to be forced at times to be political because our government doesnt like them

I have met some very intreging people there. Many are escapees from some cities. They flew away from gettos and gang wars. Ther are many indigo and crsytal kitchen people. Many are psychic and intuition abilities. They are accepted there, but are seen as s

The rainbows are in some dilemma with to many "drainbows" coming in. Many are under 20 yrs of age and have no work ethics. They think everything should be free. Many wont even bring the dishes and cups back to be washed, or fetch firewood. Its going. Its putting a real drain on the whole thing, as one person can only do so much. lazy and having no work ethics is the problem. There are to many coming in and wont carry their own load. Its getting almost impossible now to make it work with who are lazy, and wont help in any fashon or form.

The Hopis came out with a prophecy this yr about the rainbow, they say the tribes might all collapse now, because of the masses of "drainbows". And I agree. I thought I'd share that with ya, I am thinking of quitiing the rainbow tribe thing about. I have probably gone to my last gathering, I cant afford to take care of them. Thats not even biblical, for the bible says if ya dont work, then ya dont eat.

Theres nothing physically wrong with the kids, they just have no work ethics and they wont listen and change either.. This is about half of the tribes. Many are workers, and descent, good people, like me. But they are being drowned out by

The european rainbows are different, I hear. They are more in tune with nature. If I could afford it, I would like to try a european rainbow gathering. Most of the american rainbows do not like american rainbows, for the reasons I just stated. If you want to visit a gathering in your area. peace out, dude...
