Dude, our emotional evolution is extremely important, and us showing that we can survive and are conscious of our environment etc. means a lot. There is no way we can't go around telling people that there is a giant galactic UFO battle going on pushing Satan and his minions to Earth so that they may be destroyed.. if you bring them to Earth from anywhere in the galaxy/universe, then they have enough power to take care of them by themselves. Fairy tales are for children, theories based on his evidence is for men. I'm not gullible, and neither should you be. You should be more immediately... having a big window lets you see a lot, but make sure you clean out all the nasty bugs.
