What Have We Learned?

I go within the sanctuary of thy thoughts, praying to be protected from th oh why are thou to be judged of thy kind heart. The giving of a pure hear shelter of its own sanctuary of divine love, I must hide within the shelter Why must I pretend to be the source of regret, when I give love, to those

The virus snake that runs foe to foe, unclean thoughts that plagues nati

plaque the earth

My last mission upon the universe
Burning buildings, Screams of pain within these walls I declare
Your walls have fallen
You are hidden in an 8/11 box
Money has no prosperities that you own.
The gifts of a palace you no longer live.
The great wealth has taken. The treasures which you posses
Who is your God? That you worship for all man to see.

The hands that guide mans life,
The power of chose to lead will be the answers
When Gods sits at the top. Slaughters that lye
Upon the united of the free, death traps
That man sets before his own back yard.
Toxins that is bought and traded to kill.
The people of the land of the free.
What have we learned about greed?

The holocausts which man continues to breathe.
Elders who fight just to live.
Children that live upon the battlegrounds of the free.
Our back yard is dirty and our people are dying.
I sing not upon the statute of race, I sing not the statue of country,
Greed has no complexity of color.

The rich shall look upon the poor, but shall be the same who often close shall cease, shall pass no wealth, neither pulls nor influence will save the the source of implementing humanity through human kindness shall bring soldiers of the lord.

Deleting whose imitations of powers

For man's sake, human decent in Gods spoken words. Violence character
To embrace just law.

A man is a power tool of conversion to which it stands.

A vessel to implant the justice of God and the love of all man.

Sing not the glory of thy self; sing the glory of humanities that man pull wisdom, and understanding.

Beauty is in the eyes of the beholder, not the presents of face, the heart

I cast no stones for I live within a holocaust of its own dismissed. Murder

Implementing sources of humanity,
through human kindness,
delete the whose and what,
in mans darkness without couscous.
Illusions of powers for man sakes.

The spirit shall live for those,
who shall follow in the blood,
of the prophecies of justice for all.
Let not the words be sensuous slavery,
give the voice that man shall stand,
for the imbibing of Gods words.

Shrines, temples, churches,
Bestrode upon fruitful knowledge,
which man has defamed Gods house.

With tarnish and no conscious of what he represent.

The devils that hide behind the cloak, will be exposed that hide behind level of understanding, in the resource of forgiveness, forbidden love that forbidden love, which seeks my strength, Oh thy God for the love, which thee. Has been the destruction of my inner plea. I question not thy word, clean heart, which man seems to disbelief.

How can man stand before the bar of justice

Giving money for armor to the man who he says is the devil.

Shall he be accountable for the treasures, that was Bought to kill his brother.

Yet he haunt him down like a dog, not saying the Brother who was responsible for his cause?

Like hot and cold water it all units among each other.

Never combine complexities with evil,
it is a losing battle.
It will only try to take your strength,
to maintain power.
There shall be no wisdom,
knowledge and understanding.
Once the pen is taunted.
God bless and continue,
to teach the words of love.

Trust stronger than the lion that roars
Knowledge worthless without honor of self,
Understanding rationalization what comes first,
what comes last? Honor worthy,
than thieves in the night.
Wisdom the will to enhance, the will to let go.

The will to give love,
and the will to humble under complexities of un-wanted thoughts the will to subside when ignorance continues to flow.
The will to carry the torch, when the storm appears,

Above life's turmoil, true happiness, the overcoming of self, the basis of pleasant pastures of peace, effective of thoughts seeing no evil that blind

That shines through great men.

The separation of a link, which has been created as one.
One who thinks from the indoctrination of man?
Within the window of the frames, man and woman cry.
There is no unity division shall always bring pain.
What God has created no man shall erase.

Through out the time of man, who has always thought he is the greater authority than the almighty that created him.
Man which cannot breathe alone.

The labor of thy love, the pain of thy God, the glow of life.
I give to thee thy son. Remember Mother of the Universe.
Thy ebony satin that flowed through my womb.
The locks thy body that cover the blood of my precious king.
God has given life above the earth. The tears of thy labor, brought fourth a King. Let not thy labor be in vain.

The Night as the dark, the rain and the sun,
the laughter and tears,

Remember son we are one.

The symbols of thy temple,

the signs of thy torso,

the smiles of thy image,

the likings of thy ancestors,

remember thy son, I am you and you are I.

Empty words of repent.
