look, aliens are concerned with our social complex, in the last 100 years and riding horses to nuclear and thermal not to mention scalar weaponry destroy whole planets. Now from a galactic point of view, i'd be very concerned about mankind and their impact they may have on nearby solar systems, when the technologies needed to traverse space. It's very simple, there's no alien putting them in tanks, or aliens abducting humans and creating alien hybrids going on over earth pushing satan and his minions into the lake of fire, or stopping the truth from ever getting out, and possibly saving humanity.
